Sharon, honestly
I don't know what to say.
for someone whom I've met this year and have gotten to know you in such a short time, all I can say is that you have been a true example of a true friend. You came through at times when I really needed a friend, and I will always treasure our good and bad times together. Thank you for being what you are. Don't ever change because you're beautiful.
Love and happiness
for you always,

For the short time we've known you I've come to feel a greater, love and feeling of awareness that can only describe itself. And will never lose but will and can only increase in the days and years to come, though we may soon part, I hope our thoughts of each other may keep us close in heart. And who ever you may love in the future I will always think of you as my girl Love always Dim.

Dear Sharon.
From now on you don't have to ask for permission to go to your locker. I give you permission to go for the next few days left of school HA! HA! It's been a lot of fun with you here. (Skipping!!) Here's a good joke
- A guy goes to the doc & says
"Doc I got this problem
Whenever I get the urge my wife doesn't. Then first aid satisfies" Doc - "When ever you get the urge first go to her & do it She'll love it."
2 weeks later the guy sees the doc on the street & said "Doc. I took your advice & it worked. We were kissing supper & then
I got the urge so I let down my fork grabed her & did it right there, & she loved it."
Doc - "See what did I tell you" Guy "Yeah but there is one thing that bothers me
I'm not being Barbey anymore"
HA! HA! HA! HA!

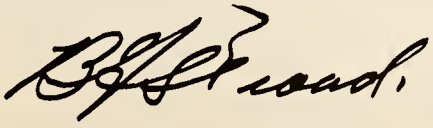
Principal's Message

Barry F. Stroud

Attending one of the largest schools in the Province, it is sometimes difficult for you Junior school students to feel a sense of belonging. Your school appears to be one class and ten different teachers. It is my hope that the production of this Yearbook will expand your horizons and make you more aware of the total school, including its curriculum and extra-curricular programs.

For those of you in Senior school, this school, this Western, has shaped your thinking, increased your knowledge, and moulded your attitudes. By involvement in the school program and activities and by your association with students and teachers, you have matured mentally while you have grown physically. For these reasons, I hope that you have purchased this and other editions of your Yearbook so that you might have a permanent printed record of these activities and associations.

When you read this edition of Western's Yearbook and you reflect on the events and accomplishments of your 49th school year as a Technical and Commercial School student, surely you will be pleased with both the presentation and the content of the book. For this fine finished copy we thank the editor, Mary Di Felice, and her staff who put in a year and a half of arduous and somewhat hectic late afternoons and evenings. We also thank the faculty advisers to the Yearbook, Mrs. J. Hazen, Mr. E. Carr, Mr. G. Scanlon, and Mr. P. Di Gregorio for their many hours of unselfish valuable service.



Vice Principals

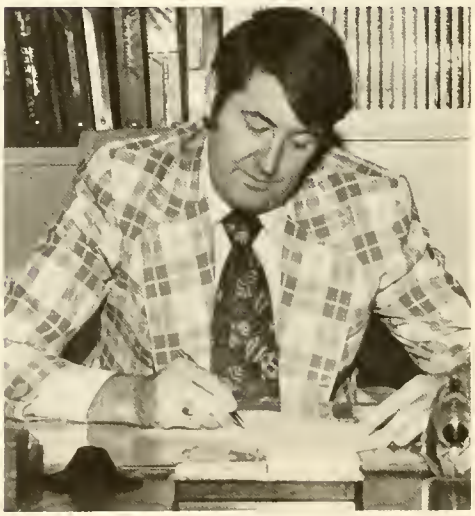
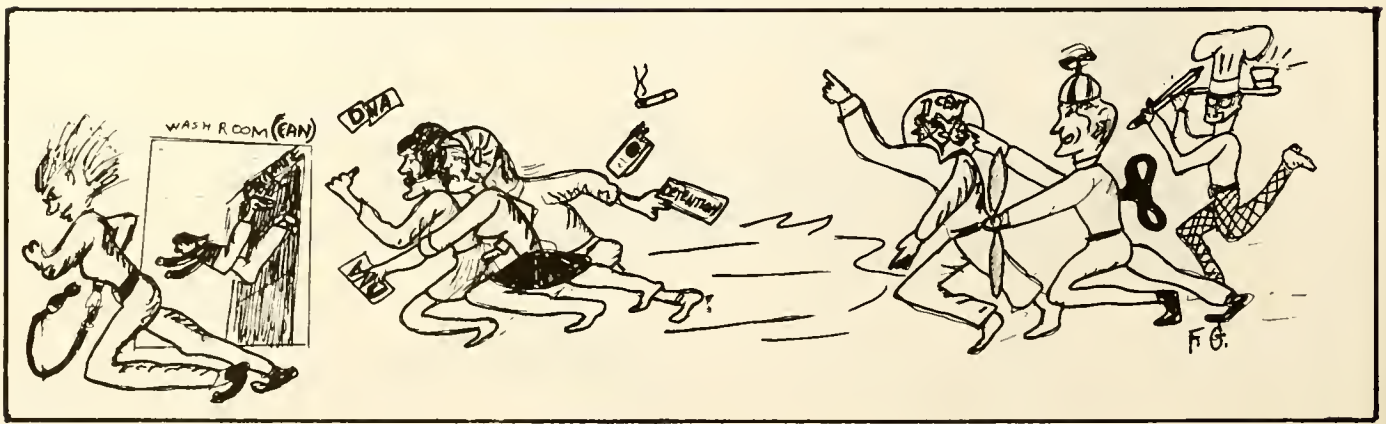
MR. STAN PENNY

"Every person has to live all his life with himself. He should, then, for his happiness' sake, make himself an informed, reasoning and interesting companion."



MR. JERRY OSBORNE

"Success is not permanent. The same is also true of failure."



Adios !

The students of Western Tech and Comm would like to wish Mr. Taylor the best of luck in his future endeavours and hold a sincere hope that his heart will always remain with Western.

Mr. Taylor was principle at Western from September, 1972, until mid-year 1975-76 when he left to take a position with the Board of Education as Technical Coordinator.

He subsequently moved to the position of Assistant Superintendent, Extension Program.

A Tribute To The

Exit Laughing

Despite the two-month gap in the 1975-76 school program, Western still managed to have a good year academically.

Since we didn't have a yearbook in the last year, we didn't get a chance to honour the graduates who passed through the doors of Western for the last time. This year we have devoted this section to them to let them know that they have not been forgotten.

Working a year after the fact, it was hard to find pictures of all of you. We did succeed in locating most, however.

Our best wishes and affection go out to you and we hope you will often turn to this section to look once again at the faces of your friends and ours.

IN MEMORY . . . . .

They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old;
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.

Class Of '76

THE SUMMER OF '76

You're leaving tomorrow . . .
And I never really said good-bye.
But perhaps it's better that I didn't,
For I should remember the other times,
The times I knew you were there.
I remember watching you work yourself 'til sleep,
And build yourself up to work.
I listened to you apologize
When you misunderstood about my feelings.
I watched you enjoy the sun,
And watched the wind enjoy your hair.
I sat with you when the day was done,
And I remember the things I learned.

. . . just a PHOTO ALBUM

I AM

I am just one grain of sand on a long beach;
I am just one drop of water in the entire sea;
I am just one pencil stroke in a large masterpiece;
I am just one nail in one beam in one house;
I am just one bee in a flower garden.
But isn't it wonderful to think, out of all the things in life,
I AM ME,
Unique in every way.

-Dale King

Valedictorians Address

These are a few wise words that the graduating students wanted to leave with us:

"...From these walls we take with us a little learning, perhaps a few regrets, but certainly some precious moments."

"...In a few moments we will come up to accept our diplomas...pieces of paper appearing insignificant yet they represent a part of our lives...a part not possible without this gathering tonight. We thank our parents and friends for our past, and our teachers for our future. And now it's up to us to make paths for others to follow."

RETIRING

J. Aymer

E. Marsden

Western will lose two thirty-year veterans this year when Mr. J. Aymer, Head of Boys' Physical Education, and Mr. E. Marsden, Head of the Technical Department, retire.

Both came to Western in 1947 after service with the Canadian Armed Forces in World War II. Mr. Aymer graduated from the University of Toronto in 1940 with a degree in Mathematics, although his major interest was and always has been physical education. His first teaching assignment was at Port Credit, followed by a stint at Lakefield H.S. in Peterborough, where he taught maths and sciences.

During the war years, 1942-1946, Mr. Aymer saw service overseas as an artillery and infantry officer with the Algonquin Regiment. He then returned to teaching, going to Goderich, Ont., for one year before coming to Western. Once again he taught maths and sciences as well as Physical Education until 1967 when he became department head and entered that field full time. Mr. Aymer plans to spend the first year of his retirement "just taking time off".

Mr. Marsden's educational background involves diplomas from Wentworth Technical School in 1932 and Central High School of Commerce in 1934. Before joining the R.C.A.F. in 1934, he worked in industry, primarily at Stelco Company of Canada as an apprentice electrician. Following discharge from the No. 1 A & M Unit in 1946, he trained as a teacher in Toronto, graduated in 1947, and began another course in Hamilton. However, he was asked to come to Western to fill in for a sick teacher and has been here ever since. Mr. Marsden has also been active in sports at Western, serving as hockey coach for many years.

Our Last Will And Testament

They say, "You can't take it with you when you go!" What is it Western students are leaving behind? We took an informal survey to find out! Following are the best of their comments---the class wills of 1977!

Being of sound body---even though our minds have gone to pot . . . . .

I, Marg Bianchi, leave all my unwashed test tubes of this year to Mr. Ranken, who, after all the experiments, made me wash them.

I, Rosa Cipollone, leave Mr. Mather my 8" x 10" colour glossy of Bobby Clarke without his teeth on. I know Mr. Mather will cherish it and take care of it because of his admiration for his idol--'the spunk of the Flyers'.

I, Thomas Bezugly, leave Godfrey Apap all my Grade 13 notes, so he can "maybe" get through Grade 13. Also so that maybe he could get something through his thick skull.

I, Donna La Vine, leave my homework for anyone who wants to do it..

I, Eva Jugowiec, leave all my D.N.A.'s and Quadrawack to R.S.

I, Crystal Estok, leave to future students: all surprise tests, exams, assignments and the other terrific stuff that goes with this school. Good luck!

I, Darlene Astley, being of sound mind and body, leave to all future students the same thing I had to go through: thinking of something to write for my will! P.S. Western, I luv ya!

I, Filomena (Phyllis) Cosale, will to all my friends at Western, memories of good times shared together, and which will always be remembered.

I, Mary Sena, leave only happy memories of my experiences at Western. It was rough, and it was tough, but four years at Western was not enough!

I, Michelle Montanaro, leave behind my sincere thanks to Mr. Leask, the best teacher in all of Western. I just wish there were more teachers like you around.

I, Linda Stripe, leave all my teachers to any dummy that wants them, 'cause where I'm going, they can't come! Ha! Ha!

I, Ernie Arduini, leave these words: Your destination lies beyond your first step. Life's journey begins with your choice; a path at the crossroads. Take care; 'till we meet again.

I, Rose Mungo, am leaving the Western students, the memories that will remain with me after parting Western are many. One thing I would like to express to the juniors or seniors is to keep up the spirit for now you represent W.T.C.

I, Iris ("I") Heydenreich, leave Western with this description of me: "I" is very " original ". If she can't go first-class, she stays at home.

I, Cheryl Hayward, leave sincere thanks to the Music Department---Mr. Black, Mr. Evans, and Mr. Heron ("Red").

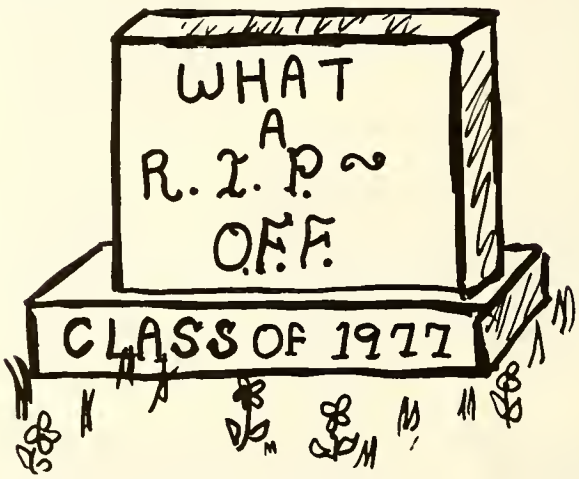
I, Ted Grudzinski, leave to the new niners revised issued of five volumes of cheatsheet notes. (Also available in pocket-book form).

I, Janet Harrison, leave all my memories of Western to Mr. Etherington.

I, Ortensio Capparelli, leave behind all my four-letter soliloquies to the English Department.

I, Lou Tomasone, leave Suzie DiMartino all the best of luck in finding another handsome guy, just as her sister has found me.

I, Janice (Sprout) Irwin, leave all my hopes and dreams to the future Grade 12 students of Western Tech.



I, Dale Playford, leave the happiness that I've found in Western. That is?s?s?s?

I, John(Jake the Sanke) laboni, leave Disco behind, but I have to take Rock 'n Roll with me.

I, Anne LeFresne, leave all my musical talent to Carmen hoping she will be able to use it to the best of her ability.

I, Domenic Facciolo, leave all my good times and happiness behind to the coming students. These can be described in one word 'BORING'.

I, Sheila Boudreau, leave my lucky football helmet, my lucky statue, my lucky leaf, and my lucky number to the person who made them lucky.

I, Mario Corsetti, leave Godfrey Apap the entire M. Corsetti estate--amounting to a debt of exactly seven dollars and forty-nine cents.

I, Nick Pugliese, leave these words: I will always remember Western for it has been part of my life for the last five years. Thank you, Western, for the good times and the bad. Be good to your future students as you were good to me.

I, Chris Ziomek, leave my cheerleading uniform full of school spirit and memories so that you may all indulge in the warm feeling felt when hearing the melodious school song; 'Dear 'ol Western'. Also, a fulfilling remembrance of Mr. Taylor . And the best of luck to Mr. Stroud.

I, Vince Cappuccitti, leave to Syl these words: 'It is better to laugh at life than to cry'.

I, Angie Rotatore, leave behind to the Home Ec. Dept. an appreciation for letting me finish my five year course here. Thanks to Mis J. Rogers, Mrs. Pechlof, and Miss Eaves.

I, Hans Wachsmuth, leave to an unsuspecting newcomer to Western my incredibly wonderful talent for penmanship. May God help him, and the English teacher who attempts to read his compositions.

I, Raffaella Cancellato, leave the memories of Vicky the hick, who would always lick a stick, especially with Dick.

I, Linda Porco, leave the English Department all its book shortages, the Math Department all my pencil shavings, the Chemistry Department my research experiments on aspirin, and my destiny to all three departments.

I, Irena Warawa, leave the advice that: If you have two friends in your lifetime, you're lucky. If you have one GOOD friend, you're more than lucky.

I, Frances Mayede, leave my 'brains' to anyone who can use them (if there's any left), and I happily leave behind all the pressures and burdens on my brother, Floyd, who will be next!

I, Nadia Baschiera, leave my bad times behind and take the good times with me to remember, forever!

I, Anna Marisa Rizzo, leave my boredom, but take my pleasure, because skipping was my greatest treasure!

I, Frances Tantalo, leave my hopes, aspirations and my three (possibly four) years in summer school to all my math teachers. Especially Mr. Burns, whose greatest line is: "Aim high, par chance you may succeed".

I, Luigina Fiorentino, leave my courage and hopes to my sister for her remaining four years at Western.

I, Sherry Taylor, leave behind to my sister Vicki my ability to go for a cigarette between every class without getting caught.

I, Sarina De Marco, leave my brilliant math techniques to Mr. Burns. To my one and only mathemetician: $x^2+9x+4(9-x^2)+28+(84x^2x¾x)6xx4--(28x+4)$.

I, Franca Ferraro, leave all my unhappy moments and memories behind to Western. All the happy memories I'll take with me.

I, Eda Andreoli, leave these words to the entire school: Love is the wisdom of the fool and the folly of the wise.--Samuel Johnson

I, Frankie Rucchetto, leave you this: When in silence, your mind tells you lies about your friends and you're afraid, don't change your style to please them. Always remember to stand on your own two feet, be yourself and your true friends will accept you as you really are.

I, Frances Frate, leave behind all the headaches and worries caused by exams.

I, Henry Stojanowski, leave the students with an old Chinese proverb:

我我%@#!!

P.S. Pete, you might as well keep it ($).

I, Antonette Giansante, leave my one and only perfect math test, to my math teacher, Mr. Hric. (P.S. your good looks made it possible)

I, Marie Ierullo, leave a bag full of my laughs to Mrs. Toth.

I, Carmela Reale, leave my cheating notes to Alda. I leave my share of the cafeteria food to Mary. I leave my notes to Theresa. But I will always keep and cherish the memories and fun I had at Western!

I, Karen Titus, leave to Wendy Gatto and Stella Orfanogiannis the ability to skip classes and never get caught.

I, Mary Sposato, leave all my notes with wrong answers to my cousins Mary and Joe.

I, Irene Dowgalak, leave behind all the happiness of the times I had at Western to the future students.

I, Sharon Hunwicks, leave my books to any person who is stupid enough to take them and all my Western spirit to the next students who attend here.

I, Peter Schembri, leave my books with the hope that they will find a home and are used for some good purpose.

I, Lily Midzan, leave all my tears and sorrows over all of my exams to the school and teachers who wrote them. (With seven, you cry.)

I, Joanne LaCaprara, leave, to all forthcoming Westerners, my memos containing 50 ways to skip without ever getting caught.

I, Jack Maloney, leave my school in your hands only under the following conditions:
a. that you never do homework
b. you continue to write on the walls
c. you never complete a full day of school.

I, Vicky Carnovale, leave to all the Western girls the lipstick stains on the washroom wall!

I, Steven Del Frate, leave behind the fact that I always had kind teachers while I was here.

I, Boris Matas, leave my holey soccer socks for another few seasons, until the school splurges for some new equipment!

I, Robert "Super Chink" Wang, want to say that: Many a sigh will be heard as we give our last glances to the gate of 'WTCS'. But will it be a sigh of satisfaction that we have passed those gates for the last time or a sigh for those greater responsibilities to be faced in the world.

I, Stella Saja, leave a dedication for G. K. :
Breathe, breathe in the air,
Don't be afraid to care,
For long we live and how we fly,
And smiles we'll give and tears we'll cry,
All we touch and all we see,
This is what our lives will be.

I, Anna Linarello, leave all my best memories, which are all our holidays and football games, to the future students.

I, Betty Morgan, leave all tests, homework, and trying to get things done on time to future students. But, with me I take many pleasant memories, yet I leave behind a great school, great teachers, and a wish for everyone to really enjoy it.

I, Maria Colli, leave to future students of Western, some words of wisdom: "Don't do today, what could be put off untill tomorrow, or the next day, or the next." This has worked a few times, but I'd advise you not to do it too often. The teachers are starting to catch on.

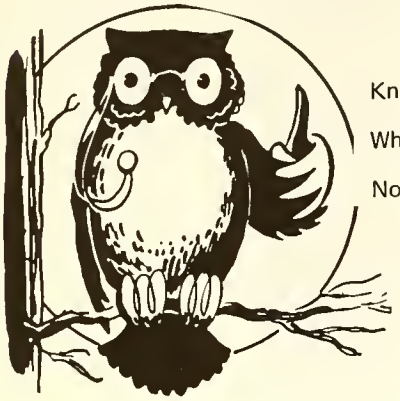
The Journalism Student's Lament

We study hard, we discuss a lot,
We write just like we oughtta,
But it sure is a lot of work
Makin'a silk purse into a reporter.

Class wills continued from pages 46-47.

I, Kevin Fennelly, leave all of the teachers praying for a break looking for good students, some who stay awake. To the teachers: at the end of my rhyme, you'll never get good students till the end of time.



Knock Knock.

Whooo's There?

Not the class of '77.

I, Dawna Martin, leave to all future students, one thought: being a student in Western is a pride in itself.

I, Lino Pace, leave behind me a practice football book for the upcoming Senior Football team.

I, Joe "Goldilocks" Clulelli, leave Gerard and Salve, my dirty running shoes and gym shorts. To pudgy Bucci, Joe and Tony, the porks, we must leave all the girls behind us now, we leave a lot of good memories too. To all my teachers and Western, good-bye, and great success to the niners.

I, Diego 'Nipsy' Sinagoga, leave these words: it is written: 'All good things must come to an end.' Thank God, good-bye Western.

I, Kay Pelopidas, leave to the people at Western one thought: Be careful of what you want, you might get IT!

I, John Paulic, leave to all the girls of this school: myself.

I, Joe Milczarski, leave my Math marks in the biggest trash can; and my lunch, please leave it in my locker; I hate cheese anyway.

I, Danny Hather, leave Mr. Sobol all my blood, sweat and slivers.

I, Mula Molinaro, leave behind my sweetheart Mr. Ingles.

I, Jim Arcadi, leave the secret to being a browner: take notes, study, and if all else fails, CHEAT!

I, Anna Dowgalak, leave behind whatever it was I came here with in the first place.

I, Doug Folkes, leave my old lunch bags to the niners who are hungry for education.

I, George Radewych, leave my locker to the sucker who decides to go to grade 13 next year.

I, Steve Rosseau, leave my football behind to Charlie because he needs the practice.

I, Lucie Frigault, leave my great exams, 15%, 20%, 12% as a good example of good hard work to the grade nines.

I, Peter Serino, leave all my coolness and charm behind.

I, Mario Galli, leave my sole possession of one share of Tuktoyaktuk Gold Mines Ltd. to Mr. Cummins. May he put it to good use.

I, Fernando (Ernie) Guerreiro, leave the school my most prized possessions---and if anyone of you find them, let me know.

I, Vince Paolo, leave all my Math, English, Franch and ACCOUNTING notebooks to all the janitors, because I have no bloody use for them.

I, Goldie Pintur, leave to Mr. Thomas all the algebraic problems that I have not solved in grade 13. May they last you a lifetime.

I, Lucrezia Suppa, leave to Mr. Hewitson, an ocean filled with "OKAY" 's; to Mrs. Copping, Mr. Ranken, Mr. Hric and Mrs. Pechlof — a microphone! But, to the Bear — hope . . . .

I, Alfie Janusas, leave one misused mike and one very worn out body; the victim of too many long weekends and too many Monday-mornings-after. But actually I loved all four years I spent at "Good'ol Western".

I, Eteme Elmazovski, leave these words:
Woman was made from Adam's ribs to be his equal not from his head to be superior, or from his foot to be inferior, but from his rib; close to his arm to I be protected, and near to his heart to be loved.

I, Mario Corsetti, will Godfrey Apap the entire M. Corsetti Estate amounting of a debt of exactly seven dollars and forty-nine cents.

I, Joe Chilleli, leave my sweetheart to Tony Perri at Western Tech. for another year.

I, Steve Maciag, leave no goodbyes, just hellos. Till we meet again---rah, rah, Western!

I, Elena Didiano, leave these lines to the students of Western: "To those of little faith, don't despair today, for tomorrow will be a better day."

To the staff of Western Tech., I, Mary Di Felice, leave my vast library of school text books that I have accumulated in the past five years.

I, Pete Fagan, leave all my worldly knowledge to the teachers who gave it to me, it's not that much but, it's all I have to give. My thanks to Mr. Green who gave most of it to me.

I worked myself to the bone to get my diploma!

I, Nina Rubino, leave behind my wits, good charms and a warm seat for my brother, Frank Rubino, to look after.

I, May Vasiliadis----Absent

I, Herbert Mowles, leave behind my brain, but I need what I got!

I, Vince Parla, leave so many friends from Western Tech. & Comm.

I, Lina Arcilesi, will always treasure the special moments in school, especially the holidays.

I, Fernanda Ferreira, leave behind my filmy bathing cap which spent the past four years being tossed around from one head to another.

I, Arthur Cotrim, leave behind me all the bad times that occured in the past four years and take with me all the good times.

Hi, I'm Pasquale, the Culture Vulture, and have I got a sad story to tell you! NOTA BENE: To Know Me Is To LOVE ME! (Capisce?)

I, Lynn Lehman, leave behind my ability to all incoming students, to cheer the loudest at the hockey games. I have really enjoyed these four great years at Western.

I, Claudia Reda, leave Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Troth a bag full of my laughs.

I, Sheldon Pronyk, leave behind all my books hoping that they may be put to good use by the other students--that is for them to be put in the incinerator in the basement of Western Tech.

I, Lucrezia Suppa, leave the memories of the night of my encounter with Rhett, and the ANSWER to my PROBLEM as "x^2". Thank you, Rhett, I found it then. It was a pleasure. Love ya always.....

I, Norm Dawson, leave my dirty white socks and track shoes used for the last four years to the Phys. Ed Department. I leave my text books to my accademic teachers. I leave my skill to the shops. But most of all, I won't leave myself here.

I, Sue(Mac) McKenzie, want to say that, "Sunshine makes me high."

I, "Hooker" Hendricks, leave an invisible basketball for the future B.B. teams of Western.

I, Tony Ramos, leave behind all those great young looking chicks and all those turkeys; Pizza head Chilleli; Pudgy Bucci Pork; Wee Wendy Wittle and those other hackers. Take it easy!

I, Denise James, leave behind me my locker for the next sucker in 13 who takes it.

I, Rosalie Belaisis, leave Western Tech. saying: "Unguard" here comes Rosalie; fencing it through the first year and balancing the second on a beam. Stroking the third with never ending lengths of the pool. Until she gave it all she had out on the field cheering give me a "W" Best of luck in the future.

I, Nicolina Paolini, leave behind me all the tears I shed, all the hope I held on to day to day, all the good times that came with the bad. I take with me new hopes for tomorrow, and treasure all the memories of the days I spent at Western.

I, Frank 'Sparky' Natalizio, leave my key to all the doors, and my ladder to the top. Always use your head as 'the tool', and never lose pride in our old school.

I, Josephine Pitruzzella, leave my shorthand book to Vince Carbone.

I, Mary-Anne Maik, leave all the pains and agonies to the next set of grade twelves.

I, Stan Kacosza, leave my good buddy Bruce Smith (the Hulk) my ability of being the 'Greatest Pinball Player Ever'. Even better than my brother, Steve. Good luck, Bruce!

I, Jacqueline McKenna, leave to all the future flute players of the school all the flutes and piccolos in the music department.

I, Luigina Fiorentino, leave my courage and hopes to my sister for her remaining four years at Western.

I, Kemo Mohamed, leave my shadow!

I, Mark Feeley, leave all my "BEER CAPS" and "BOTTLE OPENERS" to all the niners and may they get off to a good start in '78. Jug a lug.

I, Nestor Sydij, leave a group of mad and insane teachers behind to teach the niners of Western Tech. & Comm.

I, Mary Grande, leave a cherished wish to my dearest friends, Angela, King I, King II, and King III. May you always have the potential. And to Mr. Ferguson; may you have a Physics class full of girls and only one boy next year in Grade 13!

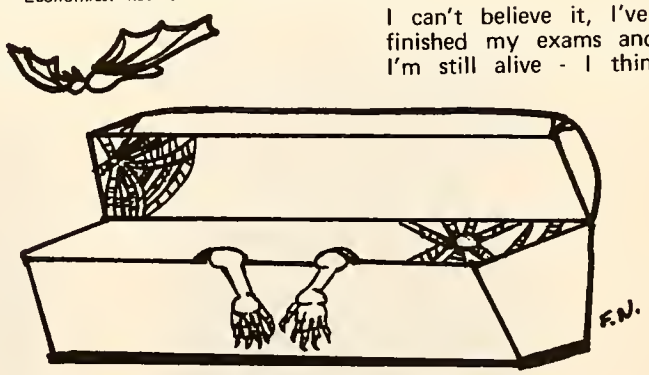
I, Betty-Ann Vertolli, leave Vicki Marchese the best of luck in her continuing years at Western.

I, Cathy Greene (Gren), leave behind me all my best wishes for the friends I have made at Western. To Mrs. Pechlof, one of the best teacher, thanks for putting up with me.

I, Anabela (Bela) Bernardino, leave these words: Dare to be yourself, to smile and be happy. For just a simple smile can brighten the darkest caves in this world. Break the cement of ultra sophistication and show someone you care. $S_{M_I}L^E$

I, Diane Sklar, leave all my worldly possessions to Mr. Mather who I continued to baffle with my theory of shorterhand, and to Mr. Whitaker who opened up the light of the world to me with his teachings of Economics. ha! ha!

I can't believe it, I've finished my exams and I'm still alive - I think...



I, Tony Pavlovec, leave behind the memories of someone special.

I, Andy Malyczewskyj, leave my thanks for a few happy years of an enjoyable learning experience, and special thanks to all the teachers who cared.

I, Ev Arcuri, leave all my homework and teachers behind, but take with me what I treasure most: "All the laughter throughout the years."

I, Tary Lozowskij, leave 014SN to the niners; 024SK to the tens; 034SB to the elevens; 044SB to the twelves, and in return accept freedom. I also will leave all my time spent at Western to the clocks.

CREG JARUIS

HEY! How can he do THAT?

He explained to me his misfortune,
He explained to me his hard luck job,
I listened silently for hours
He told me of his dreams to be
He told me of his seaside home
I listened silently for hours
And I came to the conclusion that
He was in love.
He asked if I was old enough
He asked if I could care
He listened to me for hours
And he came to the conclusion
That I was in love.
We listened patiently to each other
Our dreams and fears and loves and losts,
We cared about each others dreams
And fell in love with each others lives.
We told each other of ourselves
Our past, our present and future
We joked about the bad times
And laughed at the good
We sensed each others nearness
And we came to the conclusion
That we were being loved.
And all we did was talk.

–Sylvana La Selva

PERCEPTIONS...

A MOTHER

A mother is someone special
That God put on this earth
If you totalled the money found in the world
You couldn't find her worth

She takes most of the scrapes in life
And says hardly a word
She can get hurt beyond description
But her crying is not heard

She's there to love and be loved by her family
And to give advice if asked
But when it's time to get money or clothes
She is always last

She feeds you and clothes you through your childhood life
She's there when you're in need
Take her hand and follow her
For she knows where to lead

Through your difficult teenage years
She bears a lot of heartache
But when you mature into adulthood
Her life is easier to take

I know so much about the ways of a mother
Her love grows like a vine
It envelopes me like a warm soft blanket
This wonderful mother is mine

--Lynn Martin

BLESS MY BOYFRIEND

Bless my boyfriend's handsome face
Bless his hair that stays in place
Bless his hands that are so strong;
And make them stay where they belong!

--Ann Amaddeo

I STILL LOVE YOU

Why did you leave me
Without a call?
Please tell me why
You left at all.

What reason had you
To stop loving me?
I gave you none
As far as I can see.

You said you'd love me
Till waters ran dry,
But you didn't; you lied
And I don't even know why.

Didn't our love mean a thing to you?
Why did you break my heart?
I know I shouldn't care this much;
But you're tearing me apart.

My dearest love, I beg of you,
Now listen to my plea
Wherever you are, I still love you.
Please come back to me.

--Lynn Martin

THE COLOURS I LOVE

I love the colour blue
as in a blue bird
singing her song
in a nest of baby birds.

I love the colour green
as in a meadow of green grass, trees, and all the loveliness of nature.

I love the colour red
as in a red pen
that writes your name.

I love the colour yellow as in a reflection of the suns rays
upon your head.

And I love all the other colours that remind me of you.

--Rose Anne Attisano

A person who hates you is one that:
1. tries to trip you down the hall
2. opens the curtains so the sun will blind you
3. says he'll help you on a test but doesn't
4. blames everything on you
5. marks your name absent on the attendance
6. gives you a blotchy pen
7. steals your lock and doesn't tell you
8. grabs the last bag of chips before you do
9. scratches his nails on the board
10. "accidentally" loses your notebook

--Joan Furaya

A KINGDOM

There is a misty road ahead,
To which life shall unfold.

Two big gates
That stood up so long,
But no one there
Will ever grow old.

Return to my fortress,
A never-ending dream,
No matter where the moon may shine,
The sun will always beam.

Welcome to my palace,
A key to what life holds,
Where people cherish happiness,
Not for greed of silver or gold.

--Susan Palvenis

MY ROOM

My room is warm. It is small and the walls press against me. They give me warmth. They shelter me from the cold and rain; from hurt and tears. They comfort me in my loneliness, for there is no one else but me. There is nothing else but me. There is only life.

Others have been here before me; not in this same room but in ones very much like it. They have left their rooms and have remembered nothing; only darkness. I am here and I do not see darkness. I see the light of life and the good. There is colour, warm colour. There are candlelight blues and pinks and greens and yellows, soft and warm. I see the beauty of a sunset, but there is no sun; no darkness that comes with the sun's sleep. The sky is leaving to be replaced by darkness. But the darkness does not come.

The walls of my room are warm, but soon I must leave them. Soon I must go to the coldness of life, to live and love.

--Irene Miller

There is a place
So very far away
Where you can face
A world of dismay.
For there they leave
In sadness, sorrow and dread,
For there they believe
The world they know is dead;

There is a place
So very far away
Where you can face
A world of dismay.
For there they leave
In sadness, sorrow and dread,
For there they believe
The world they know is dead...

--Fernando Guerreiro

CONTEMPLATE

I look above at the stars in the night,
And try and see what is behind their light.
Is there a mystic sense of everlasting glow?
Or are they a reminiscence of life long ago?

I wonder how we started here,
And how we got to be.
Was it religious, or scientific fact?
Or are we just a fantasy?

For who's to say we're really here,
We could be just a dream.
Maybe life's reality,
Is part of a gigantic scheme.

An alien breed of complex creatures,
Living in a sheltered world.
Suiting our selves to its environment,
To which our minds have unfurled.

Will we ever find the answer?
Do we really have a clue?

Who we are and where we're from?
Is this world our house or zoo?

So many questions and so few answers?
Maybe none at all...
So for now I'll leave this issue alone.
And live life proud and tall.

--Sonia Tomyn

LOVE IS...

Love is when two people meet
Love is a great beating heart
Love is the female and male
Love is me and you.

Love is two cudly little babies
Love is the whole thing.
Love is the opened flower of life
Love is a great deal.

--Olivia Fiorentino

WHEN YOU LEAVE

Let me tell you of the pain I feel, the joy and sadness which you caused.

The pain, I feel when you're not there to hold and love me.
The joy, which I feel when I'm in your arms, and your lips are pressing on mine.
The sadness, of the harsh words you said, or the emptiness which you bring with your leaving.

Time seems to go by so quickly when I'm with you, the hours turn to minutes, the minutes to seconds and the seconds into nothing.

When you leave, will I be able to say Good-bye so that you won't see the hurt I feel? Or will I break down and cry, when you turn your back on me and walk away, without even looking back?

When you leave, what will I have left?
Nothing, but some memories of a love that was once strong and died, and now has to be forgotten in time.

--Domenica Sesto

THE SANCTITIES OF THE DARK

Whether hurt, or afraid, or even unloved,
You can turn from those things while you're here.
It's not a dream world,
Nor a chamber of fun,
Just a place you can feel you're alive.

--Sheila Boudreau

YOU RAT, YOU!

You make me laugh, you make me cry.
When you say you love me, it's only a lie.
You say you love me, need me and care:
whenever I need you, you're never there.
Your excuse is always the same,
that you had to work late
Sure you did Romeo with another date.
You say you love me and I'm the boss,
So honey, start taking my orders
GET LOST!

--Anna Pitruzzella

A SPECIAL FEELING

There is something about you that brings a special feeling;

You have brought happiness with every smile that we share.

You let me talk to you when the world has deserted me.

The touch that you give lets the blood in my veins and heart run cold.

Your image has illuminated my days like the morning sunshine.

Your voice has brought sweet music to my ears which I can't bear to forget.

You give me feeling upon feelings which are so hard to describe.

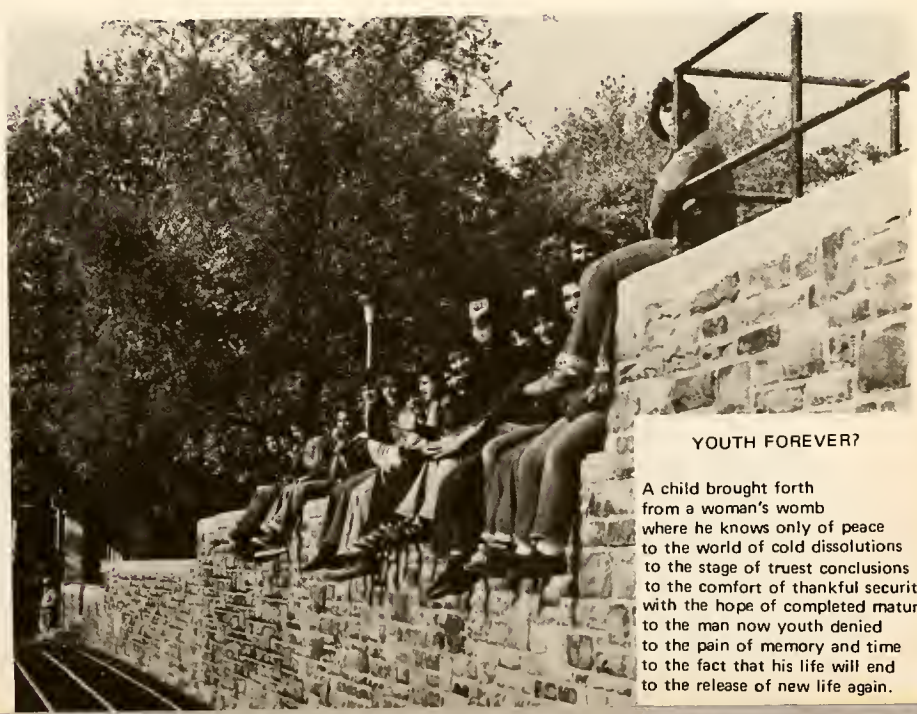
I guess, you, my special person, have given me feeling of love.

--Phyll Nucaro

TEARS ARE . . . . .

Tears are raindrops,
falling from the sky.
Tears are punishment,
for the innocent stander-by.
Tears are time,
lost by each tick of the clock.
Tears are hard work and effort,
and failing at your best.
Tears are taking the blame,
'though it should cause no shame.
Tears are love and happiness,
and success in life.
Tears are the joy of a friend,
lending a hand.
Tears are you,
taking time to care and understand.

--Lucrezia Suppa



YOUTH FOREVER?

A child brought forth from a woman's womb
where he knows only of peace to the world of cold dissolutions to the stage of truest conclusions to the comfort of thankful security with the hope of completed maturity to the man now youth denied to the pain of memory and time to the fact that his life will end to the release of new life again.

INNOCENCE

Hey, you with your eyes so full of wonder
Staring at the sky
To you it's just a big blue sea
Of which you know not why.

If you could peek behind the clouds
What do you think you'd see ?
"A lot of angels playing harps
And maybe God himself" says he.

Such an answer, sweet and pure
From a mind that runs so wild
Still no one knows just what goes on
In the head of an innocent child.

--Lynn Martin

IT TAKES A WHILE . . .

In winter, when the fields are white.
I sing this song for your delight.

In spring, when woods are getting green,
I'll try to tell you what I mean.

In summer, when the days are long,
Perhaps you'll understand the song.

In autumn, when the leaves are brown
Take pen and paper and write it down.

YOU

Who is the guy
With the keen eye
Who is waiting for me?
I cannot see.
I'm so lonely and sad —
this is a feeling
Worse than bad.
I need a guy
Who is tender and warm,
Who wants to love me
All day long.
I need a guy to call
mine and his own
That's not far away
And not too close.
I need someone
To keep me smiling
To hug me and hold me
When moods are crying.

I need you.

--Josie Mancuso

TO REMEMBER -- Written for My Father

I was only young
When he left me.
Uninformed of what was happening.
When he left, I cried,
Yet I didn't know what for.
Now I'm trying to gather the pieces,
But I can't!
He seems so far away,
Lost in the past.
But I want to remember everything,
Clearly and vividly.
I want to remember how he walked,
How he talked, and how he smiled.
But most of all, I want to remember,
Every time he told me he loved me.

--Sheila Boudreau

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is a life-long thing,
Friendship is a time to sing,
Friendship is full of strikes and blows,
Friendship comes and friendship goes.

It's nice to share a thought or two,
With whom you can depend,
It's nice to know that person cares,
That person called a friend.

Although you might not need them,
They're certain to be there,
But if a problem should arise,
You know for sure they care.

--Janice Irwin

THREE WISHES

If someone granted
Me three wishes
And every wish
I made came true,
All three wishes,
That I make
Would be

To spend my life
With you.

--Susan Palvenis

Life is like a seed
It grows lives for a while
Then it dies.

--Maria Saccomarro

A LONG ROAD

Life has many roads. You take one and try your best at achieving your goal. You might be successful, but if you aren't, then you haven't got much to go on. Some hints on making it are: take it easy in life and don't rush things. Watch your step and if things get out of hand, just stop everything and start all over again, trying your hardest to work out your problems. If you take this advice, you just might succeed in life and finish your trip down the road.

--Teresa Reale

WHEN YOU LOVE SOMEONE . . .

When you love someone,
You want only to be near them.
You are willing to give up all else for him,
Only because he is the only one who matters.
You are willing to change in order to please him,

And to bend in your code of morals to make him happy.
But sometimes those things don't work.
Sometimes he doesn't want you to change.
That's when you simply be yourself,
And enjoy each other as you are.

--Sheila Boudreau

SEVEN YEARS AGO . . .

Seven years ago . . .
I met you briefly then.
For a while it was simply "hello".
But then came the day we talked–
Still we did not spend enough time together,
Although the memories will always remain. . .
Not long has passed since we were united again,
It wasn't by force, but rather by choice.
I hoped you would say something–
You didn't, and neither did I.
Each night I wait to see you coming by.
I know who you've been with,
It hurts deeply, and makes me want to cry
To know that if I had one real chance with you
We could learn to love life and each other even more.
I really want you to remember
That if you ever need me, I'm here,
I'm your friend, I love you.
I will always leave room for you in my heart.

–Lucrezia Suppa

REMEMBERING A SPECIAL FRIEND

As I look back on childhood days
I remember
A special little friend I had
And liked the best of all.

We played together every day
We ate together, too.
And shared our toys and picture books
Like best friends always do.

—Pina Posteraro

ON YOUR WAY

All through the years
All through your life
Not a word was said
Not even a thought formed.
You said you had it in your hand
But you turned your back,
And sent them on their way.
Now as you look up, you still
Wonder, if it was all possible.

You seemed to have all the answers
But now you've run out of excuses.
The most important thing was yourself,
That day when you needed a shoulder
No one seemed to look,
No one said a word,
They just turned their backs and sent you on your way.

–Diego D'Angelo

WHY?

Why do birds fly?
Why do people die ?
Why can't people know if their being taken advantage of?
Why can't everything be as simple as one of nature's lovely doves?
Why do people care?
Why do people share?
Why do people act selfish and deprive others of the things they want?
Why couldn't they be kind like a swan who'll be more than happy to share it's pond?
Why do people kill?
Why waste your life with a simple pill?
"Why" is one of the hardest questions this world will never know the answer to . . .
But WHY? ? ?

–Rose Anne Attisano

LONELINESS

Alone at night,
While all others have ceased their conscious thoughts,
I think of the darkness before me.
And how it soothes what is inside.
Within the walls of darkness
There exists the lurking soul of life.
In it are the harmless thoughts of you and me,
And the serene beauty of one's patience.
For me it is a place of tranquility,
A place where my heart may be unguarded.
It is there that all splendor comes forth
To rekindle the light of darkness.
Yet, alone at night, in its comforting arms,
It deceives me with no warning.
It is no longer my chamber of beauty.
But my lonely world of reality.

–Sheila Boudreau

SECRET LOVER

Constantly looking but never speaking
Never stopping always creeping
Always loving you from afar
Making wished

Making wishes upon the stars
Holding on patiently all the time
For the day when you'll be mine
Waiting to come out from under my cover
Yes, I'm the one, your Secret Lover.

–linda Hayden

MY FIRST DAYS AT WESTERN

My first days at Western I was lost! The first day of school I was sent to the office for an admit slip for being 20 minutes late.

Due to a lack of a good memory, this is all I remember. (After all it was 6 years ago.)

--S. Richardson

WESTERN

High School is a great big step,
A step that one must take,
It usually asks for 4 or 5 years,
A habit not to break.

The laughs you had in the classroom,
The laughs you had in the hall,
The times the teachers yelled at you,
To make your spirits fall.

The friends you made at Western,
The ones who you will remember,
Each time a problem did arise,
You fought it off together.

And yet, Western has been good to me;
I know I can't complain,
My memories of the green/black/white,
Will always be the same.

--Janice Irwin

MY FIRST DAYS AT WESTERN

My first days at Western,
I was always getting lost.
I was always late for classes,
And the teachers were getting cross.

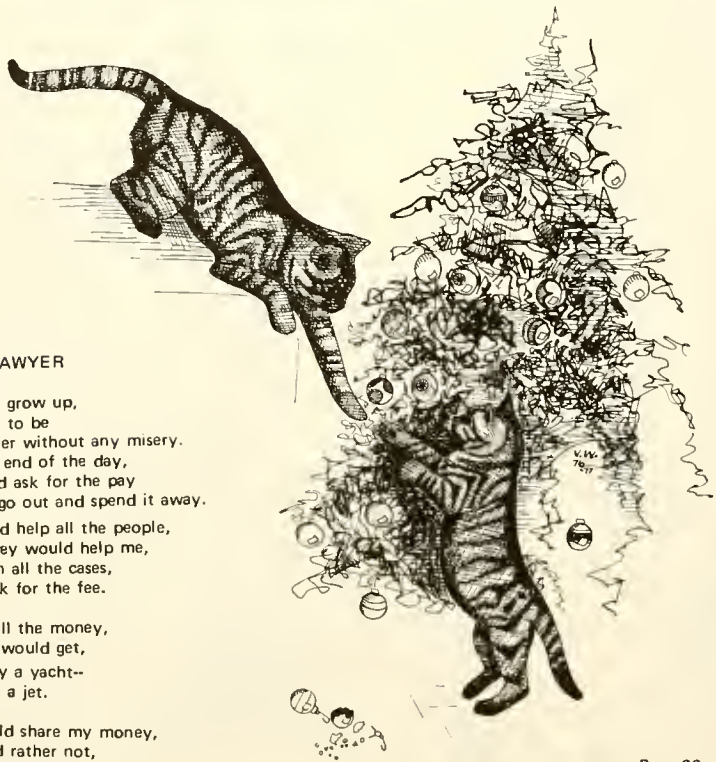
I tried to do my best
In all the classes that I had,
The more I tried, the more fun it was,
And for that I was never sad.

When I couldn't find my way around
I'd ask someone which way to go,
But usually that someone
Pretended not to know.

Together with my other friends
I explored far and wide,
We usually get into trouble,
But the thing was we never tried.

My first days at Western
I guess really weren't that bad,
In fact when I look back at them
They were the best days that I had.

--Joseph Mardo



THE LAWYER

When I grow up,
I'd like to be
A lawyer without any misery.
At the end of the day,
I would ask for the pay
Then, go out and spend it away.

I would help all the people,
and they would help me,
I'd win all the cases,
and ask for the fee.

With all the money,
that I would get,
I'd buy a yacht--
maybe a jet.

I should share my money,
but I'd rather not,
because I worked for it,
and not my pop!!!

--Anonymous

MY LOCKER

All that junk,
And what for,
School,
A place for learning,
As they say.
Fourteen hard covers,
Five binders,
A swim suit and towel,
Four pens, three pencils, one ruler,
From this you get a mess.

My locker, what a place!
Everything in it is out of place,
I leave books any place,
Can't find any space,
No, there is no space.

That terrible smell,
What is that smell,
It's my gym suit, that smells,
It stinks the whole locker up,
But why should I care.

I don't, you know,
But my locker does,
It has feelings,
It's afraid of people stopping and staring,

--Jeanie Bennie

SLOW POISON

Our friendship was coming to an end,
We both realized it; so time together we did not spend.
We once had what people thought was something great that everyone sought.
But, fight after fight, our friendship flew away.
We both were stubborn and too full of pride,
To admit that we were both wrong deep inside.
But we both should plainly see, that friendhsips don't come so easily.
Everyone seems to be talking so much
Gossiping, telling friends, we're losing touch.
We both don't seem to care or want to try,
It's sad to think that close friends have to end with goodbye.

--Dorothy Krepenoutis

WITH APOLOGIES TO HERRICK

Stone walls do not a prison make nor iron bars a cage,
But if I stayed inside this school
I'd die at a young age.
It's a prison from nine to three though the windows are not high.
One of these days, you'll be free . . .
Then think Western long after you die.

--Godfrey Apap

ALONE AND PUZZLED

When I'm all alone and puzzled,
I sit and watch the rain
Fall and hit my window pane.
I wonder...
I wonder why I am puzzled.
"Because I am alone"
Will be the answer.

"But why am I alone?"
I ask again...

--Rose Anne Attisano

HERE I AM ONCE AGAIN

Here I am once again
Sitting by the radio
Just waiting for that
Love song to play.
And when it should Happen to come along,
I'll sit back and miss you again.
I'll sit back and
Remember all the good times
We had together.
Of course we had bad times
But I want to remember the ends.
All those times we admitted
We were wrong and foolish
And when you kissed me gently.
Then I remember your face.
With that long, brown hair
Always parted neatly.
With those big brown eyes
Shinning right at me.
With that nose, shaped so fine
And those lips, so firm.
The ones with which you have
Kissed me so many times.
And then I find myself
Remembering the last time
I saw you.
The time we parted -- forever.
And I remember it can't be changed.
So here I am once again
Sitting by the radio
Just waiting for that
Love song to play --
Just to remember.

What's Tarzan's favourite Christmas carol?

What's A. Dey's favourite Christmas carol?
Deck the Halls with English folly,
'Tis the season to get your jollies.

Western's annual Christmas basket project produced some spectacular results this year. In the program sponsored by the Red Cross Club, 45 hampers of food were delivered to needy families whose names were submitted by social service agencies. Winning forms were 024SH - most plentiful, 055SC - most original, and 035BA and 034BE tied for most decorated.

The Pizzarelli Boys

This year Western's Cheerleaders came across some very tough competition right within the school.

Western saw its first male cheerleaders! (Definitely a sight for sore eyes).

On a clear day, you can hear forever:

VERSE 1:

Pizzarelli's Pizzeria,
No anchioves, mozzarella,
Sliced tomatoes, Olives, Mushrooms,
Oh oh oh oh oh oh oh ----------ah.

VERSE 2:

One day when we were playing Humberside,
The crowds were cheering far and wide,
When through the sky came a UFO!
Was it a bird or airplane? NO!
It was a message from Lady Scott,
But on stationary, it was not!
Humberside was defeated heart and soul
Wiped out by a toilet paper roll.

(P.S. They're for the birds).

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

You'd better watch out,
You'd better not smoke,
You'd better not skip,
We're telling you why,
Mr. Stroud is walking the halls...
He knows when you are smoking
He knows when you are skipping
He knows if you've been bad or good
So be good for goodness sake!

Serge, Bruno Alfie, Mike, Jim, Joe and Sag.

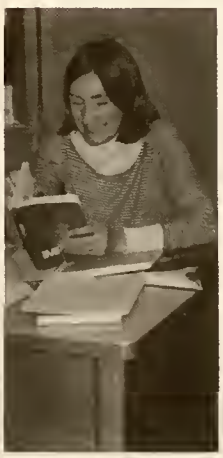
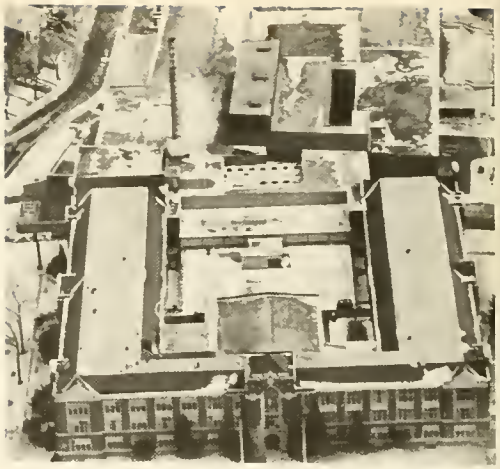
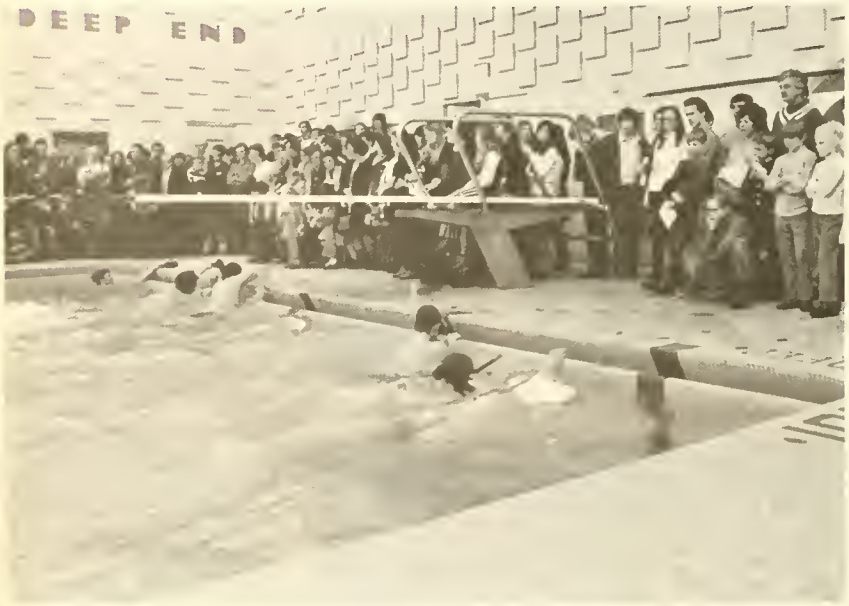
TWO



WESTERN'S EXHIBITION NIGHT





Your children are not your children.
They are the sons and daughters of Life's longing for itself.
They come through you but not from you,
And though they are with you yet they belong not to you.

You may give them your love but not your thoughts,
For they have thoughts of their own.
You may house their bodies but not their souls,
For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.
You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you.
For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday.

You are the bows from which your children as living arrows are sent forth.

.....

Let your bending in the archer's hand be for gladness.

THE MUSIC

Sr. Concert Band

Although Western has been recognized for its sports, we are now being recognized for our musical potential. Western's bands are known by the old and young alike for their musical talent.

In the past two years, the bands have performed in Ottawa and Windsor, and this year are planning a trip to Philadelphia. We've performed on the MacLean-Hunter Television Show and have completed two albums.

The success of our bands is not only due to the enthusiasm of all our members but also the enery and professional supervision of our great music directors.

Mr. Hric—most likely to get it "right in the old juguler".

Mr. Dey—most likely to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune.

Mr. Weinroth—most likely to become just another page in another book.

Mr. Shimbos—most likely to donate his vitals to science.

MARUSHKA KNOWS

Marushka the Great, Queen of the Gypsies, Past Mistress of Class-Skipping, Chieftainess of Anderson's Hide-away and Boogie Parlour, knows all and tells all. In fact, she won't stop telling all. Marushka recently gazed into her crystal ball copped from the biology lab - and came up with the following all-in-fun Horrorscope insights into life at Western.

MARUSHKA PREDICTS

Gazing into the future of Western Tech., I, Marushka, Queen of Seers, predict that mighty events and tragic happenings are in store for all those who remain behind next year.

On September 3rd., I predict that the halls will be invaded by a teeming herd of illiterate, uncouth and uncivilized "Barbarians". The corridors will resound with the crash of tumbling mountains of textbooks by thunderous jeers of Niners! Niners!

On September 4th., I predict the halls will be whispering, deserted wastelands as the new niners quickly discover the joys of cutting classes for far away places.

Looking ahead into autumn, the tea leaves reveal plague, illness, and pestilence on the date of the first game against Humberside–but, alas, Humberside will painfully recover yet again and stagger once more to meet the challenge of triumphant Western.

November will bring exams and the thud of falling bodies as despairing niners, reeling with dismay at their first experience with exams, hurl themselves out of Western's windows–basement windows.

Winter brings a blanket of white to Western's Valley–and the thrilling first snowball fight of the season, in which, I predict, the score will be students 15, teachers 0, suffering a collective loss of dignity and denture plates in a student-staged ambush.

And then. . . I. . . I can't go on. . . but I must–February and the February Blahs. . . it's terrible–a pall of misery settles over the school. . . every teacher and every student at odds with every teacher and every student. . . ghastly! – but wait – far off! – Spring approaches, and with it the promise of yet another magnificent edition of Westward Ho !

AQUARIUS:

These undependable people can often be seen wandering the halls, trying in vain to find their classrooms.
NOTED WESTERN AQUARIANS:
Mary Di Felice (that's all folks.)

LEO:

The get-up-and-go people in the school. They're always getting up and going (n.b. never to class.) In class, they are noted for their ferocious growling.
NOTED WESTERN LEOS: If Roman D. isn't one, he should be. Also Mr. Dey, Joe Milcharski, Mr. Maitman, Mrs. Connelly, and grade twelve students with averages in the 25 - 50 per cent range.

PISCES:

At Western Tech, these are the real fishes. Anti social school of "Bacalas" (if non-Italian, please consult your Italian dictionary.) usually are gliding the halls armed with paint brushes or fountain pens because they are supposed to be "creative", but we know better, don't we?
NOTED WESTERN PISCES: Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Sudac, Mr. Ramsay, and art students.

VIRGO:

Very rarely do you see a Virgo in school. This is NOT a tip to the administration, but Virgos usually hang out at Andersen's, Swansea's, or the Annette Restaurant, desperately trying to start some kind of social life.
NOTED WESTERN VIRGOS: Miss Gauthier, Mr. Holmes, Mr. Cook, all grade thirteen students, and all girls over sixteen who are not yet engaged.

ARIES:

These hard - headed people keep butting into other people's business. Weak points: inability to pull wool over eyes of daily associates and B-A-A-A-d manners! What you can call an Aries - Mutton-head! (Don't worry - they'll usually forgive you in the shake of the lamb's tail.)
NOTED WESTERN ARIANS: Mr. Ingles, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Speer, Miss Smith, and probably all niners.

LIBRA:

These spastic people are always making fools of themselves in gym -- for example, running face first into flying dodge balls while trying to retrieve their contact lenses. When last seen, one noted Libran was making a spectacular dive into three feet of water. (he thought it was the deep end.) No attempt of any kind was made to salvage this poor misguided schlepp.
NOTED WESTERN LIBRAS: Mr. Penney, Mr. Ranken, Mr. Pysanczyn (J.&R.), and grade eleven commerce students.

TAURUS:

These are the dirt-kickers in the school. They appear to be tough by their constant acts of destruction. However, deep down they know they're going to be put out to pasture. Favourite colour: red. What mother Taurian does for offspring: "bull-sitting". What Taurians do in class: "bull-dozing".
NOTED WESTERN TAURIANS: Mrs. MacIntosh, Miss Greensides, Miss Murkar, Mrs. Dawson, most English department members, and the majority of the dirt-kickers (tenth grade tech students.)

SCORPIO:

The stinging personality and furtive appearance of many Scorpians have been known to break camera lenses. There is something about their smile that makes you want to run a mile -- or stay a while -- in Hawaii, Tokyo, Siberia .....
NOTED WESTERN SCORPIOS: Mrs. Gabrini, Mrs. Hazen, Mr. Mather, Mrs. Armstrong, and the male P.E. staff.

GEMINI:

These are the mixed-up people in the school. They have a dual personality: they're here, but they're not here, i.e. physically present, but mentally absent.
NOTED WESTERN GEMINIS:
Miss Murabayashi, Mr. J. Osborne, Mr. Kremer, Mr. Balcombe, Mr. Yano, Mr. Wright, all grade ten commerce students, most senior students on warm days, and period nine students beside windows.

SAGITTARIUS:

These archers go around taking shots with lots of little arrows at you and me, always playing cupid, but their "horsing around" is seldom successful. They tend to have a reverse Robin Hood complex -- taking from the rich AND poor and keeping it for themselves.
NOTED WESTERN SAGITTARIANS:
Mrs. Whelan, Mr. Christou, Miss Bohdanewycz (Vera), "suppressed Sagittarians" who leave their marks on the washroom walls.

CANCER:

These crabs live in constant fear of being captured and dissected by the biology department. Usually found lurking in dark corners where they spend their time sharpening their claws for any unwary niners.
NOTED WESTERN CANCERIANS:
Mrs. Hawkins, Mr. Stroud, Mr. DiGregorio, and all Library staff.

CAPRICORN:

Their limited sense of humour leaves a lot to be desired. It's very easy to get their goat. No kidding around with these Billy Goats Gruff.. They can out-class any troll.
NOTED WESTERN CAPRICORNS:
Mr. Whittaker, Mr. Evans, Mrs. Bajric (Alma), Mr. Maher (If HE isn't one, HE should be.), and any Western student during the exam week.

GENERAL COMMITTEE:

BACK ROW: Darlene MacDonald, Sandra Westlake, Margret Sharples, Jane Pidkocielny.

FRONT ROW: Carlotta Martins, Sue Reginelli, Mary Piromalli, Domenica Sesto, Gina Orrico, Rose Pallotta.

The beautiful cover was designed by one of our own student artists, Joe Milcharski. Special thanks Joe!

Finally, it's all over, the 1975-77 edition of Westward Ho! is completed.

My deep appreciation goes to the following staff members for all the time and effort put into producing what I feel is the best yearbook ever.

Mr. P.Di Gregorio

and of course Mrs. J. Hazen for her valuable experience and her many hours of unselfish hard work.

To the many students who donated so much of their time, all I want to say is that I hope you are experiencing the same sense of pride that I am.

Best wishes to all fellow graduates for whom this yearbook will have a special sentimental value...

We started out hating each other and now I consider you my Best and dearest friend. Like the song say "You got a friend" you have. "If you ever need me just call and I'll be there. If other girls were half as close as I feel to you they would be lucky and I hope you feel the same way. I hope just because school is coming to an end that does not mean that our friendship has to come to an end too. You better phone me alot in the summer and come and see me (Jerry only lives two streets over so you have no excuse)

Love always and forever and

Sharon we got along really well this year. I wish that only I had met you earlier. I must say that you are a real true friend and I hope that we will get together after this year of school.
